

EROSION STUDY—Harry Atkinson, project leader at the Northeastern Illinois Soil Conservation Station located at the Joliet Arsenal, checks the amount of soil washed away from a slope as the result of rain. The equipment catches the water at the bottom of the slope. (Herald-News photo.)